PATIENCE

PARENTING Prompts

TEEN

Ask your teen "What is something you are waiting for now? What will it mean to wait patiently on God in this situation?"

When your teen wants to talk, be mindful of your facial expression and tone of voice - make sure that they communicate patience and love!

At a meal this week, work your way through the alphabet as a family, naming things that make God great from A to Z.

Share bible verses that relate to your teen's present circumstances in a natural way. Say something like "When you told me about ... it made me think of a verse in ...".
